

How can I assign content to my team members?

Tags: Skills

Channels are an excellent way to organize the content you want your team members to learn. You can create a channel, add members, and watch as their skills improve.

Channels can contain Pluralsight Skills content such as courses and projects, as well as external links. As a plan admin, you can feature certain channels in your learners' channel experience, and even automatically add new team members to a channel.

See Introduction to channels for more information.
