

Admin success center: Skills

Know what's new

You've introduced your team to Skills, organized content, begun leveraging analytics, and fostered a culture of skill development. Because your organization and your industry are dynamic, the opportunities for growth are, too. The Skills platform is constantly improving your ability to stay sharp and meet these ever-changing opportunities.

Nurture new hires

When you rolled out Skills to your team, you shared welcome emails, introductory videos, and other resources to help them come up to speed on using the platform. Don't forget to share these same resources with new team members as your team grows.

For your convenience, all the tools and links shared throughout the Skills leader resources are repeated in All resources as a one-stop reference.
