Google offers official practice exams for each of their Cloud Certification exams:

- Google Cloud Certified Professional Cloud Architect practice exam \(opens in new tab\)
- Google Cloud Certified Professional Data Engineer practice exam \(opens in new tab\)

Tip: The practice exams contain 20 questions. We recommend not to spend more than 45 minutes in this practice exam, as that's the same amount of time per question as the real exam. The practice exam won't show a timer as the real exams do, so be sure to time yourself!

Experience is different to taking the real exam. The questions are not from the official exam pool but they are representative of the real exam. For this reason, memorizing won't give you an edge, but it is helpful to become comfortable with the way the questions are worded and the topics that are covered.

The practice exam questions don't change every time you take it. It is only a pool of only 20 questions. The best way to use this resource is to take the practice exam a week before your official exam so you can understand what topics you need to review. If you feel like you didn't do well in the practice exam, you still have time to re-schedule your exam without incurring further fees.
