

How to book a Google certification exam

Tags: ACG

To book your exam, you can go to the Official Google Cloud website \(external site, opens in new tab\).

You will need a Webassessor account—you will be asked to create it before you can register for the exams using the account creation form \(external site, opens in new tab\).

- Make sure to create the account with your personal email address, not your work address. Doing so will still help your company reach a Google Partner status if they are working towards that.

When you register for an exam, you will need to schedule an exam time at a Kryterion testing center that is convenient for you. You can locate the nearest testing center \(external site, opens in new tab\).

Keep in mind that you can re-schedule your exam without incurring any extra fees until 72 hrs before the exam. After this, a fee may apply.

Good luck and happy learning!

If you need help, please email Pluralsight Support \(opens email form\) for 24/7 assistance.