

Flow release: March 17, 2023

Tags: Flow

Features and major changes

- Now there's a Pull request column in Ticket log. Use this column to understand how many PRs are associated with your tickets.
- Now you can more easily see which filters are applied in Ticket log and have a better understanding of how complex filters are working together to display your ticket data.
- We've added a link to our Customer experience webinar \(opens in new tab\) series to Flow so you can sign up for our recurring webinars. Click the question mark icon in the top right of Flow, then click Customer connections to get started.

Resolved issues

- Unable to see metrics in the Review collaboration report when all merged PRs are Unreviewed PRs.
- Unable to see tickets in Sprint movement associated with sprints that are closed then reopened.

If you need help, please email Pluralsight Support \(opens email form\) for 24/7 assistance.
